To help you better understand how your personal information is protected by Equity Trust Company, we are providing you with the following statement describing our policies and procedures with respect to the privacy of your customer information. In the event you terminate your customer relationship with us, or become an inactive customer, we will continue to adhere to the policies and procedures described in this notice.

This notice applies only to non-public personal information about individuals who obtain financial products or services primarily for personal, family or household purposes.

Equity Trust Company Privacy Policy

Equity Trust Company restricts access to your personal and account information to those employees and affiliates who need to know the information to provide products, education materials or services to you and we educate our employees about the importance of confidentiality and customer privacy. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to guard your non-public personal information. We do not sell any of your personal information to any third party affiliates or non-affiliates. We may provide such information to any successor custodian/trustee for your account. As such, we reserve the right to transfer such information in connection with a sale of our business, whether by sale of assets, or a merger, consolidation or other similar transaction, or a reorganization or liquidation of our business whether or not in connection with a filing for bankruptcy under applicable law.

What is Required to Establish an Individual Retirement Trust?

When you decide to start your program, complete the application and Form 5305-S found in this package and forward to Equity Trust Company.

Application and Form 5305-S

This application and Form 5305-S are the basic legal documents through which you join the Trust. They should be carefully considered. Please complete and sign the application and Form 5305-S. Send the originals to Equity Trust Company. Make one copy for your records and provide one copy to your investment executive. We cannot accept an incomplete or unsigned application. We have provided Form 5304-SIMPLE for your convenience. Please complete this form for your records.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires Equity Trust Company to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account.

What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

Trust Installation and Notice

Individual accounts will be opened by your broker. The title of the account will be as follows:

Equity Trust Company, Trustee

FBO (Name of Account Holder), SIMPLE IRA

Account Executive Note:

Set the account up so that duplicate statements are sent to:

P. O. Box 8963
Wilmington, DE 19899-8963.

Investments

It is your responsibility to direct the investment of the Trust funds. Investment directions may be given directly to your brokerage firm. Investment confirmations will be sent to you by the brokerage firm.

Trustees are required to furnish participants with a statement of the value of their account by January 31 each year. Because Equity Trust Company is a non-depository directed trustee, we must rely on the regularly issued brokerage/investment statements that are issued to you to meet this requirement.

The facilities of your brokerage firm will be available to you so that you may obtain research material in connection with your investments. Your brokerage firm will receive only brokerage commissions or appropriate dealer markups for the purchase and sale of securities within your account.

The brokerage firm cannot exercise discretion or control over your account, unless you are using the services of a registered investment advisor. Although they may provide investment information and advice to you, they do not intend that any advice given by them will serve as the primary basis for your investment decisions. Furthermore, it is our understanding that you will exercise independent judgment in making investment decisions.

Contributions

Important: Forward all contributions to your brokerage firm. To make sure the contributions are associated with the proper tax year, the brokerage firm's cash statement must designate the tax year for which the contribution is made. If no year is designated, the contribution will be considered made in the tax year in which it is deposited. If you make a Rollover, the brokerage firm's cash statement must indicate "RO" next to the asset(s) received.

Note: With the exception of rollovers, contributions in excess of the allowable amount per year (as indexed), plus excess of allowable catch-up contributions (as indexed) (or such limits as may be established by law) cannot be accepted. Do not over-invest as this will cause a debit balance and may disqualify your Plan. Commissions are part of the cost of the investment and may not be paid separately.

Fair Market Value

As a non-depository directed trustee, we are required to submit the December 31 fair market value of your account to the Internal Revenue Service each year. We request this information annually from your brokerage/investment firm and provide it to the IRS. If your brokerage/investment firm does not provide this information, we will request this information from you. In the event that we do not receive the fair market value of your account, we will report the last value reported to us to the IRS. We strongly recommend that you carefully monitor your account at all times and contact your brokerage/investment firm if you do not receive a statement with the December 31 fair market value of your account by January 31.

For certain types of investments, particularly limited partnerships and private placement investments, a valuation of zero may be reflected when the investment sponsor reports the investment as having no market value or if the investment sponsor is in bankruptcy.

Important Information on "Float"

Float is interest that is earned on funds held by service providers, generally in short term investments, pending investment or the cashing of outstanding benefit checks.

The DOL does not consider the retention of float by service providers to be a prohibited transaction under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) if several guidelines are followed. You may view a copy of the details of the DOL's guidance on float at the following web address: <http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/regs/fabmain.html>.

Equity Trust Company may earn float on:

- Contributions awaiting investment direction.
- Outstanding benefit distribution checks. Float is earned until the checks are cashed.
- Outstanding dividend checks. Float is earned until the checks are cashed.

Equity Trust Company tries to minimize float as much as possible. For instance:

- We mail checks the day we issue them. However, we do not have control over when the checks are cashed.
- Contributions and dividend checks are normally sent for investment on the day after they are received (hence, we would not earn float) or as soon as possible thereafter. Certain situations -e.g., lack of allocation or investment directions, etc.- slows down the allocation or investment of those funds.

We do not credit float directly to the plans or accounts for which we provide services because the cost to track the amount of float on a per plan or per account basis and allocate it to the plan participants or account would far exceed the amount of float earned. In the end, the amount that we earn on float helps us keep our fees down. Please contact your Equity Trust Company representative at (800) 209-9010 if you have questions.

Records

It is extremely important for you to keep good records covering your contributions and investments. Remember that you assume the responsibility for filing all Federal and State tax returns and forms required as an Account Holder of a SIMPLE IRA.

(Note: Our Federal Tax ID number should appear when opening cash accounts. It is 05-0552743. When a cash account is opened, both Trustee & Account Holder must receive a statement).

- (1) The limit is not reduced below 1%; (2) The limit is not reduced for more than 2 calendar years during the 5-year period ending with the calendar year the reduction is effective; and (3) Each employee is notified of the reduced limit within a reasonable period of time before the employees' 60-day election period for the calendar year (described in Article II, item 2a).
- b Nonelective Contributions
- (i) For any calendar year, instead of making matching contributions, the Employer may make nonelective contributions equal to 2% of compensation for the calendar year to the SIMPLE IRA of each eligible employee who has at least $ _____, (not more than $5,000) in compensation for the calendar year. - 2 Vesting Requirements. All contributions made under this SIMPLE IRA plan are fully vested and nonforfeitable.
- 3 No Withdrawal Restrictions. The Employer may not require the employee to retain any portion of the contributions in his or her SIMPLE IRA or otherwise impose any withdrawal restrictions.
- 4 Selection of IRA Trustee. The Employer must permit each eligible employee to select the financial institution that will serve as the trustee, custodian, or issuer of the SIMPLE IRA to which the Employer will make all contributions on behalf of that employee.
- 5 Amendments To This SIMPLE IRA Plan. This SIMPLE IRA plan may not be amended except to modify the entries inserted in the blanks or boxes provided in Articles I, II, III, VI, and VII.
- 6 Effects Of Withdrawals and Rollovers
 - a An amount withdrawn from the SIMPLE IRA is generally includible in gross income. However, a SIMPLE IRA balance may be rolled over or transferred on a tax-free basis to another IRA designed solely to hold funds under a SIMPLE IRA plan. In addition, an individual may roll over or transfer his or her SIMPLE IRA balance to any IRA or eligible retirement plan after a 2-year period has expired since the individual first participated in any SIMPLE IRA plan of the Employer. Any rollover or transfer must comply with the requirements under section 408.
 - b If an individual withdraws an amount from a SIMPLE IRA during the 2-year period beginning when the individual first participated in any SIMPLE IRA plan of the Employer and the amount is subject to the additional tax on early distributions under section 72(t), this additional tax is increased from 10% to 25%.

- 2 Employee. Employee means a common-law employee of the Employer. The term employee also includes a self-employed individual and a leased employee described in section 414(n) but does not include a nonresident alien who received no earned income from the Employer that constitutes income from sources within the United States.

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form

Form 5304-SIMPLE is a model Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees of Small Employers (SIMPLE) plan document that an employer may use to establish a SIMPLE IRA plan described in section 408(p), under which each eligible employee is permitted to select the financial institution for his or her SIMPLE IRA.

These instructions are designed to assist in the establishment and administration of the SIMPLE IRA plan. They are not intended to supersede any provision in the SIMPLE IRA plan.

Do not file Form 5304-SIMPLE with the IRS. Instead, keep it with your records.

For more information, see Pub. 560, Retirement Plans for Small Business (SEP, SIMPLE, and Qualified Plans), and Pub. 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

Note. If you used the March 2002, August 2005, or September 2008 version of Form 5304-SIMPLE to establish a model Savings Incentive Match Plan, you are not required to use this version of the form.

Which Employers May Establish and Maintain a SIMPLE IRA Plan?

To establish and maintain a SIMPLE IRA plan, you must meet both of the following requirements:

1. Last calendar year, you had no more than 100 employees (including self-employed individuals) who earned $5,000 or more in compensation from you during the year. If you have a SIMPLE IRA plan but later exceed this 100-employee limit, you will be treated as meeting the limit for the 2 years following the calendar year in which you last satisfied the limit.

2. You do not maintain during any part of the calendar year another qualified plan with respect to which contributions are made, or benefits are accrued, for service in the calendar year. For this purpose, a qualified plan (defined in section 219(g)(5)) includes a qualified pension plan, a profit-sharing plan, a stock bonus plan, a qualified annuity plan, a tax-sheltered annuity plan, and a simplified employee pension (SEP) plan. A qualified plan that only covers employees covered under a collective bargaining agreement for which retirement benefits were the subject of good faith bargaining is disregarded if these employees are excluded from participating in the SIMPLE IRA plan. If the failure to continue to satisfy the 100-employee limit or the one-plan rule described in 1 and 2 above is due to an acquisition or similar transaction involving your business, special rules apply. Consult your tax advisor to find out if you can still maintain the plan after the transaction.

Certain related employers (trades or businesses under common control) must be treated as a single employer for purposes of the SIMPLE IRA requirements. These are: (1) a controlled group of corporations under section 414(b); (2) a partnership or sole proprietorship under common control under section 414(c); or (3) an affiliated service group under section 414(m). In addition, if you have leased employees required to be treated as your own employees under the rules of section 414(n), then you must count all such leased employees for the requirements listed above.

What Is a SIMPLE IRA Plan?

A SIMPLE IRA plan is a written arrangement that provides you and your employees with an easy way to make contributions to provide retirement income for your employees. Under a SIMPLE IRA plan, employees may choose whether to make salary reduction contributions to the SIMPLE IRA plan rather than receiving these amounts as part of their regular compensation. In addition, you will contribute matching or nonelective contributions on behalf of eligible employees (see Employee Eligibility Requirements below and Contributions later). All contributions under this plan will be deposited into a SIMPLE individual retirement account or annuity established for each eligible employee with the financial institution selected by him or her.

When To Use Form 5304-SIMPLE

A SIMPLE IRA plan may be established by using this Model Form or any other document that satisfies the statutory requirements.

Do not use Form 5304-SIMPLE if:

1. You want to require that all SIMPLE IRA plan contributions initially go to a financial institution designated by you. That is, you do not want to permit each of your eligible employees to choose a financial institution that will initially receive contributions. Instead, use Form 5305-SIMPLE, Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees of Small Employers (SIMPLE)—for Use With a Designated Financial Institution;

2. You want employees who are nonresident aliens receiving no earned income from you that is income from sources within the United States to be eligible under this plan; or

3. You want to establish a SIMPLE 401(k) plan.

Completing Form 5304-SIMPLE

Pages 1 and 2 of Form 5304-SIMPLE contain the operative provisions of your SIMPLE IRA plan. This SIMPLE IRA plan is considered adopted when you have completed all applicable boxes and blanks and it has been executed by you.

The SIMPLE IRA plan is a legal document with important tax consequences for you and your employees. You may want to consult with your attorney or tax advisor before adopting this plan.

Employee Eligibility Requirements (Article I)

Each year for which this SIMPLE IRA plan is effective, you must permit salary reduction contributions to be made by all of your employees who are reasonably expected to receive at least $5,000 in compensation from you during the year, and who received at least $5,000 in compensation from you in any 2 preceding years. However, you can expand the group of employees who are eligible to participate in the SIMPLE IRA plan by completing the options provided in Article I, items 1a and 1b. To choose full eligibility, check the box in Article I, item 1a. Alternatively, to choose limited eligibility, check the box in Article I, item 1b, and then insert "$5,000" or a lower compensation amount (including zero) and "2" or a lower number of years of service in the blanks in (i) and (ii) of Article I, item 1b.

In addition, you can exclude from participation those employees covered under a collective bargaining agreement for which retirement benefits were the subject of good faith bargaining. You may do this by checking the box in Article I, item 2. Under certain circumstances, these employees must be excluded. See Which Employers May Establish and Maintain a SIMPLE IRA Plan? above.

Salary Reduction Agreements (Article II)

As indicated in Article II, item 1, a salary reduction agreement permits an eligible employee to make a salary reduction election to have his or her compensation for each pay period reduced by a percentage (expressed as a percentage or dollar amount). The total amount of the reduction in the employee's compensation cannot exceed the applicable amount for any calendar year. The applicable amount is $11,500 for 2012. After 2012, the $11,500 amount may be increased for cost-of-living adjustments. In the case of an eligible employee who is 50 or older by the end of the calendar year, the above limitation is increased by $2,500 for 2012. After 2012, the $2,500 amount may be increased for cost-of-living adjustments.

Timing of Salary Reduction Elections

For any calendar year, an eligible employee may make or modify a salary reduction election during the 60-day period immediately preceding January 1 of that year. However, for the year in which the employee becomes eligible to make salary reduction contributions, the period during which the employee may make or modify the election is a 60-day period that includes either the date the employee becomes eligible or the day before.

You can extend the 60-day election periods to provide additional opportunities for eligible employees to make or modify salary reduction elections using the blank in Article II, item 2b. For example, you can provide that eligible employees may make new salary reduction elections or modify prior elections for any calendar quarter during the 30 days before that quarter.

You may use the Model Salary Reduction Agreement on page 3 to enable eligible employees to make or modify salary reduction elections.

Employees must be permitted to terminate their salary reduction elections at any time. They may resume salary reduction contributions for the year if permitted under Article II, item 2b. However, by checking the box in Article II, item 2d, you may prohibit an employee who terminates a salary reduction election outside the normal election cycle from resuming salary reduction contributions during the remainder of the calendar year.

Contributions (Article III)

Only contributions described below may be made to this SIMPLE IRA plan. No additional contributions may be made.

Salary Reduction Contributions

As indicated in Article III, item 1, salary reduction contributions consist of the amount by which the employee agrees to reduce his or her compensation. You must contribute the salary reduction contributions to the financial institution selected by each eligible employee.

Matching Contributions

In general, you must contribute a matching contribution to each eligible employee's SIMPLE IRA equal to the employee's salary reduction contributions. This matching contribution cannot exceed 3% of the employee's compensation. See Definition of Compensation, below.

You may reduce this 3% limit to a lower percentage, but not lower than 1%. You cannot lower the 3% limit for more than 2 calendar years out of the 5-year period ending with the calendar year the reduction is effective.

Note. If any year in the 5-year period described above is a year before you first established any SIMPLE IRA plan, you will be treated as making a 3% matching contribution for that year for purposes of determining when you may reduce the employer matching contribution.

To elect this option, you must notify the employees of the reduced limit within a reasonable period of time before the applicable 60-day election periods for the year. See Timing of Salary Reduction Elections above.

Nonelective Contributions

Instead of making a matching contribution, you may, for any year, make a nonelective contribution equal to 2% of compensation for each eligible employee who has at least $5,000 in compensation for the year. Nonelective contributions may not be based on more than $250,000* of compensation.

To elect to make nonelective contributions, you must notify employees within a reasonable period of time before the applicable 60-day election periods for such year. See Timing of Salary Reduction Elections above.

Note. Insert "$5,000" in Article III, item 2b(i) to impose the $5,000 compensation requirement. You may expand the group of employees who are eligible for nonelective contributions by inserting a compensation amount lower than $5,000.

Effective Date (Article VII)

Insert in Article VII the date you want the provisions of the SIMPLE IRA plan to become effective. You must insert January 1 of the applicable year unless this is the first year for which you are adopting any SIMPLE IRA plan. If this is the first year for which you are adopting a SIMPLE IRA plan, you may insert any date between January 1 and October 1, inclusive of the applicable year.

Additional Information

Timing of Salary Reduction Contributions

The employer must make the salary reduction contributions to the financial institution selected by each eligible employee for his or her SIMPLE IRA no later than the 30th day of the month following the month in which the amounts would otherwise have been payable to the employee in cash.

The Department of Labor has indicated that most SIMPLE IRA plans are also subject to Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). Under Department of Labor regulations at 29 CFR 2510.3-102, salary reduction contributions must be made to each participant's SIMPLE IRA as of the earliest date on which those contributions can reasonably be segregated from the employer's general assets, but in no event later than the 30-day deadline described previously.

Definition of Compensation

"Compensation" means the amount described in section 6051(a)(3) (wages, tips, and other compensation from the employer subject to federal income tax withholding under section 3401(a)), and amounts paid for domestic service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority. Usually, this is the amount shown in box 1 of Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement. For further information, see Pub. 15, (Circular E), Employer's Tax Guide. Compensation also includes the salary reduction contributions made under this plan, and, if applicable, compensation deferred under a section 457 plan. In determining an employee's compensation for prior years, the employee's elective deferrals under a section 401(k) plan, a SARSEP, or a section 403(b) annuity contract are also included in the employee's compensation.

For self-employed individuals, compensation means the net earnings from self-employment determined under section 1402(a), without regard to section 1402(c)(6), prior to subtracting any contributions made pursuant to this SIMPLE IRA plan on behalf of the individual.

Employee Notification

You must notify each eligible employee prior to the employee's 60-day election period described above that he or she can make or change salary reduction elections and select the financial institution that will serve as the trustee, custodian, or

*This is the amount for 2012. For later years, the limit may be increased for cost-of-living adjustments. The IRS announces the increase, if any, in a news release, in the Internal Revenue Bulletin, and on the IRS's website at IRS.gov.

issuer of the employee's SIMPLE IRA. In this notification, you must indicate whether you will provide:

1. A matching contribution equal to your employees' salary reduction contributions up to a limit of 3% of their compensation;
2. A matching contribution equal to your employees' salary reduction contributions subject to a percentage limit that is between 1 and 3% of their compensation; or
3. A nonelective contribution equal to 2% of your employees' compensation.

You can use the Model Notification to Eligible Employees earlier to satisfy these employee notification requirements for this SIMPLE IRA plan. A Summary Description must also be provided to eligible employees at this time. This summary description requirement may be satisfied by providing a completed copy of pages 1 and 2 of Form 5304-SIMPLE (including the information described in Article VI—Procedures for Withdrawals).

If you fail to provide the employee notification (including the summary description) described above, you will be liable for a penalty of $50 per day until the notification is provided. If you can show that the failure was due to reasonable cause, the penalty will not be imposed.

If the financial institution's name, address, or withdrawal procedures are not available at the time the employee must be given the summary description, you must provide the summary description without this information. In that case, you will have reasonable cause for not including this information in the summary description, but only if you ensure that it is provided to the employee as soon as administratively feasible.

Reporting Requirements

You are not required to file any annual information returns for your SIMPLE IRA plan, such as Form 5500, Annual Return/Report of Employee Benefit Plan, or Form 5500-EZ, Annual Return of One-Participant (Owners and Their Spouses) Retirement Plan. However, you must report to the IRS which eligible employees are active participants in the SIMPLE IRA plan and the amount of your employees' salary reduction contributions to the SIMPLE IRA plan on Form W-2. These contributions are subject to social security, Medicare, railroad retirement, and federal unemployment tax.

Deducting Contributions

Contributions to this SIMPLE IRA plan are deductible in your tax year containing the end of the calendar year for which the contributions are made.

Contributions will be treated as made for a particular tax year if they are made for that year and are made by the due date (including extensions) of your income tax return for that year.

Summary Description

Each year the SIMPLE IRA plan is in effect, the financial institution for the SIMPLE IRA of each eligible employee must provide the employer the information described in section 408(l)(2)(B). This requirement may be satisfied by providing the employer a current copy of Form 5304-SIMPLE (including instructions) together with the financial institution's procedures for withdrawals from SIMPLE IRAs established at that financial institution, including the financial institution's name and address. The summary description must be received by the employer in sufficient time to comply with the Employee Notification requirements earlier.

There is a penalty of $50 per day imposed on the financial institution for each failure to provide the summary description described above. However, if the failure was due to reasonable cause, the penalty will not be imposed.

A. SIMPLE IRA Contribution

SIMPLE IRAs hold employer tax-deductible contributions and employee pre-tax contributions to a Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees, a SIMPLE IRA plan.

1. Eligibility

Only certain employers are eligible to establish a SIMPLE IRA Plan.

a. Eligible Employers

SIMPLE IRA plans are only for small employers – an employer with 100 or fewer employees in the previous calendar years who were paid $5,000 or more in total pay from the employer. (There are certain additional rules that may apply.) The employer determines if the company is eligible to establish a SIMPLE IRA plan. An employer may have a SIMPLE IRA plan only if it has no other retirement plan at any time when the SIMPLE IRA plan is in operation. "Retirement plans" for this purpose include 401(k), profit sharing, pension, and other kinds of retirement plans that receive tax benefits.

b. Eligible Employees

Generally, all of the employer's employees must participate in the SIMPLE IRA plan. However, the employer may decide to exclude:

- an employee who did not receive at least $5,000 in pay from the employer in at least two prior calendar years (not necessarily consecutive).
- an employee who is not reasonably expected to receive at least $5,000 in pay from the employer for the current calendar year.
- union-represented employees, provided that there was good faith bargaining over the issue of retirement benefits.
- employees who are nonresident aliens and receive no U.S. source income.

The summary description of your employer's SIMPLE IRA plan will indicate whether these groups of employees will be included or excluded from its SIMPLE IRA plan.

2. Employee Contributions

If you are an eligible employee, you may elect to have a percentage of your pre-tax pay contributed by your employer to your SIMPLE IRA, up to a maximum annual salary deferral of $12,500 for 2017. After 2017, the maximum amount may be adjusted for cost-of-living increases. If you will be age 50 or over by the end of the year, you may elect to have your pre-tax pay reduced by an additional amount of $3,000 for 2017. After 2017, the additional amount may be adjusted for cost-of-living increases.

You elect the desired percentage of pay to contribute on a salary reduction agreement available from your employer. Salary reductions may be made only from pay you earn after signing the salary reduction agreement.

3. Employer Contributions

For each year that it operates a SIMPLE IRA plan, your employer must make contributions on behalf of eligible participants. Your employer may choose either matching or nonelective contributions for a particular year. Your employer must notify you of the contribution approach it has elected for a particular calendar year.

a. Matching Contributions

If your employer makes matching contributions, you must make salary reduction contributions from your own pay in order to receive matching contributions from your employer. Your employer will match your contributions, dollar for dollar, up to a cap of 1% to 3% of your pay for the calendar year. Your employer decides the cap (subject to certain IRS requirements).

b. Non-Elective Contribution

If your employer decides to make non-elective contributions, it must contribute 2% of your pay for the calendar year provided that you receive $5,000 or more in pay from the employer for the calendar year, whether or not you make salary deferral contributions.

For this purpose, your pay is subject to an IRS limit. The limit is $270,000 for 2017. This limit is indexed for future cost-of-living changes.

B. Payments from your SIMPLE IRA

You have a non-forfeitable right to your SIMPLE IRA at all times. You may request payment from your SIMPLE IRA at any time. Your SIMPLE IRA will be subject to federal income taxation as ordinary income at the time of distribution, unless you complete a rollover, as described in Section D. Lump sum payments from SIMPLE IRAs are not eligible for special income tax rules, such as 10 year averaging or long-term capital gain treatment.

1. Taxation of Benefits

a. Transfer to a Health Savings Account

Qualified HSA funding distributions cannot be made from your SIMPLE IRAs.

b. Federal Withholding

Depending on the payment form you elected, generally all taxable distributions from your SIMPLE IRA will be subject to federal income tax withholding. For non-periodic payments (lump sum amounts), the withholding rate is generally 10%. For periodic payments, the normal wage withholding rates generally apply. You may be able to elect out of withholding, as described on the applicable distribution form.

2. Payments Prior to Age 59½

If you request payment prior to age 59½, you must include the reason for the distribution so that proper tax reporting can be made. In addition, an additional 10% early distribution tax penalty (25% from the SIMPLE IRA in the first two years of plan participation) may result, unless an exception applies. See Section L.

3. Payments After Age 70½/Required Minimum Distributions (RMD)

Federal tax rules require that benefit payments from your SIMPLE IRA begin no later than the April 1 following the calendar year in which you reach age 70½--your required beginning date. If you do not receive the entire balance of your SIMPLE IRA by the April 1, date you must have started receiving payments each year that satisfy the federal required minimum distribution rules by that date. The required minimum distribution for any year after your 70½ year must be made by December 31 of that later year.

a. Calculating Your RMD

The amount that must be distributed each year, the RMD amount, beginning with the calendar year for which distributions are required and continuing through the year of death, is obtained by dividing the SIMPLE IRA account balance on December 31 of the previous year by the distribution period using the Uniform Lifetime Table in Q&A-2 of Section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the Treasury Regulations, using your age on your birthday in the applicable distribution year.

However, if your sole designated beneficiary is your surviving spouse and such spouse is more than 10 years younger than you, the distribution period is determined under the Joint and Last Survivor Table in Q&A-3 of Section 1.401(a)(9)-9 using the ages as of your and your spouse's birthdays in the applicable distribution year.

b. Penalty For Failure to Take RMD

If in any taxable year after you turn age 70½ you fail to withdraw the required minimum distribution from the SIMPLE IRA, a 50% nondeductible penalty may be imposed by the IRS on the difference between the amount that should have been distributed and the amount actually distributed.

c. General Rules

If you have multiple SIMPLE or traditional IRAs, you must determine the RMD amount for each IRA, however the minimum amounts can be totaled and the total taken from any one or more of the SIMPLE or traditional IRAs (but not from a Roth IRA). Any distributions in excess of the required minimum payment for one year cannot be used as a credit when figuring a subsequent year's RMD. An annual RMD must be satisfied before you can roll over any portion of your IRA account.

d. Default Distribution Methodology

If you do not commence distributions by your required beginning date, we may do any of the following:

- assume you are taking your RMD from another IRA and make no payment until you make a request,
- pay your entire SIMPLE IRA to you in a single sum payment, or
- pay the RMD amount based on the value of your SIMPLE IRA.

We will not be liable for any penalties or taxes incurred due to your failure to take your RMD.

e. RMDs After Your Death

An RMD is required for the year of your death, under the rules described above. RMDs required by beneficiaries in future years are described in Section I

C. Transfers of SIMPLE IRA Assets1. Trustee to Trustee Transfer

You may transfer assets in your SIMPLE IRA from one trustee directly to another. The transfer is not a rollover and is therefore not subject to the one-year waiting period that applies to rollovers as described below. There is no dollar limit on the amount you transfer or how often you can make a transfer.

The transfer is tax-free if it is between SIMPLE IRAs (or after two years of participation, a SIMPLE IRA and a traditional IRA). However, a transfer of a SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA is a conversion (as discussed in Section E) and subject to tax.

2. Limitation on Transfers of SIMPLE IRAs

For the first two years that you participate in your employer's SIMPLE plan, you may only transfer your SIMPLE IRA to another SIMPLE IRA. After you have completed two years of participation, you may transfer your SIMPLE IRA to a traditional IRA tax-free, or, subject to tax, to a Roth IRA.

3. Transfers Incident to Divorce

If you are the spouse or former spouse of a SIMPLE IRA Account Holder and you receive a transfer of an interest in that SIMPLE IRA under a divorce decree (or related document), the transfer is not a distribution and is tax-free. Upon the transfer, the SIMPLE IRA will be treated as your IRA and you will be subject to taxation upon distribution.

D. Rollover of IRA Assets

Distributions from your SIMPLE IRA or other retirement programs typically are subject to taxation, as described in Section B above. You may be able to defer taxes on the distributions by completing a "rollover". A rollover is a tax-free movement from one retirement program to another. The rollover rules are complex and may change. You should consult with your tax advisor about your situation.

You may roll assets into or out of your SIMPLE IRA subject to the following rules:

1. Timing

Generally, you must make a rollover contribution within 60 days of the date you receive a distribution from an IRA. If you do not make the rollover within this 60-day window, the distribution will be subject to income tax, as described in this disclosure statement. The IRS may waive the 60-day requirement in the event of a casualty, disaster or another event beyond your reasonable control, as provided in IRS Revenue Procedure 2003-16.

2. No Tax Deduction

Generally, you do not include the amount rolled over in your income and you cannot take a tax deduction for the year the rollover was completed. However, a conversion from a SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA is subject to tax.

3. Rollover From a SIMPLE IRA to another IRAa. Types of IRAs

You may complete a tax-free rollover between SIMPLE IRAs. In addition, after two years of participation in your employer's SIMPLE plan, you may roll over your SIMPLE IRA to a traditional IRA.

b. Eligible Rollover Distribution

Most taxable distributions from your SIMPLE IRA are eligible for rollover. However, a distribution will not qualify for rollover if it is an RMD payment, a corrective distribution, or a payment in a series of substantially equal annual or more frequent distributions made over your life or life expectancy, over the joint life or life expectancy of you and your beneficiary, or over a period of 10 years or more.

c. Waiting Period Between Rollovers

You may take a distribution of assets from a SIMPLE IRA and make a rollover contribution of all or part of the assets to another SIMPLE IRA. You are limited to one such rollover in any twelve consecutive month period. The one-year period begins on the date you receive the IRA distribution, not on the date you rolled it over into another IRA. However, this rule does not apply to conversions to a Roth IRA or a recharacterization. The IRS rules regarding this one rollover limitation are subject to change. Consult with your tax advisor about your situation.

d. Partial Rollovers

If you withdraw assets from your SIMPLE IRA, you can roll over part of the withdrawal tax free and keep the remainder of the assets. The amount you keep may be subject to taxation and, if the assets are taken as an early distribution, an additional 10% (or 25%, for certain SIMPLE IRA distributions) penalty tax, unless an exception applies.

e. Rollover of Securities

For rollovers between IRAs, you must roll over to the new IRA the same securities or other property you received from your old IRA. For example, if you received stock from your old IRA, you must use the same stock for the contribution to your new IRA. The IRA custodian may, in its sole discretion, refuse to accept particular securities or property if sound administration or custody of the investment is not feasible, the investment presents burdensome valuation problems, or is otherwise prohibited by law.

4. Rollover from a SIMPLE IRA to an Employer Plan

Subject to the employer plan's rules, you can rollover an eligible rollover distribution from a SIMPLE IRA into a qualified plan, annuity plan, 403(b) or certain governmental 457 plan. However, you must have satisfied the two years of participant rule in the SIMPLE IRA before you complete this rollover.

The distribution must be an eligible rollover distribution (as described above). In addition, the waiting period between rollovers also applies.

5. Rollover From an Employer Plan to an IRA

A distribution from an employer plan (such as a qualified plan, annuity plan, 403(b) plan or certain governmental 457 plans) CANNOT be rolled over into a SIMPLE IRA.

E. Conversions1. Conversion from a SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA

Any or all of a SIMPLE IRA may be converted to a Roth IRA.

However, a SIMPLE IRA cannot be converted to a Roth IRA until you have two years of participation in your employer's SIMPLE plan.

You may make the conversion by instructing the custodian or trustee to change the designation of your SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA, if the Roth IRA is offered by the same custodian or trustee. Otherwise, you may convert by making a rollover or transfer from a SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA. The amount of the conversion, minus any return of basis, is taxable as ordinary income in the year the conversion occurs. (If you make the conversion by rollover, the tax is imposed for the year the rollover distribution occurs.) The 10% penalty tax on early withdrawals does not apply to such conversions.

Caution: Any withdrawal of conversion amounts from your Roth IRA within the 5-year period beginning on the first day of the taxable year in which the contribution is made would be subject to the 10% penalty tax on early distributions for the entire amount of the conversion and earnings attributable to the withdrawal, if no exception applies.

2. Prior Rules

Prior to 2010, there were income limits and tax filing limitations on Roth IRA conversions. Individuals are now allowed to convert to a Roth IRA regardless of a participant's gross income or filing status. The law eliminated the requirement that married taxpayers must file joint returns and removed the $100,000 MAGI limit on the conversion to a Roth IRA.

3. Reconversion

You cannot convert and reconvert an amount during the same tax year. If you reconvert during either of these periods it will be a failed conversion. A failed conversion is includible in income and is subject to penalties.

F. Recharacterizations

A recharacterization will permit you to treat a contribution made to one type of IRA as having been made to a different type of IRA, such as a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA or vice versa. However, you may not recharacterize employer contributions (including elective deferrals) under a SIMPLE IRA as contributions to another type of IRA.

G. Designation of Beneficiary

You may designate any person or entity to be your beneficiary to receive your SIMPLE IRA upon your death, subject to the following rules:

1. Designation of Beneficiary

You may designate a beneficiary on the IRA application.

2. Modification of Beneficiary Designation

You may modify the beneficiary designation by properly completing a beneficiary form. Changes to the beneficiary designation must be received by us (or our designated agent) during your lifetime.

3. No Beneficiary Designation

If you have not designated a beneficiary prior to your death or your designation is not effective for any reason, the beneficiary will be your surviving spouse, or if none, the beneficiary will be your estate.

4. Beneficiary May Designate Own Beneficiary

Upon your death, your designated beneficiary may designate his or her own beneficiary to receive any remaining assets in the SIMPLE IRA.

5. Effect of Divorce

If your designated beneficiary is your spouse (designated either by name or relationship or both), your divorce or annulment or other legal termination of your marriage will automatically revoke your prior beneficiary designation. You may designate your former spouse as a beneficiary of your SIMPLE IRA by completing a new beneficiary designation after the date your marriage legally terminated. Changes to the beneficiary designation must be received by us during your lifetime.

H. Inherited IRA

Your beneficiary will inherit your SIMPLE IRA at your death.

1. Tax Effect

Your beneficiary must include any taxable distribution in gross income. Certain distributions are required, as described in Section I below.

2. IRA Inherited From Spouse

If you inherit a SIMPLE IRA from your spouse you may:

- a. Treat the IRA as your own by designating yourself as the Account Holder (you will not be treated as a beneficiary for purposes of the IRA rules);
- b. Treat it as your own by rolling it over into your traditional IRA, or to the extent it is taxable, into a qualified employer plan, qualified employee annuity plan, tax-sheltered annuity plan, or eligible deferred compensation plan; or
- c. Treat yourself as the beneficiary rather than treating the IRA as your own.

3. IRA Inherited From Non-Spouse

If you inherit a SIMPLE IRA from someone other than your spouse, you may not treat the IRA as your own. You cannot rollover any amounts in or out of the IRA, or make contributions to the IRA. However, you can make a trustee-to-trustee transfer as long as the IRA into which the amounts are being moved is set up and maintained in the name of the deceased IRA Account Holder for the benefit of you as the beneficiary.

4. Separate Accounts

If you name multiple individual beneficiaries, they may each establish separate accounts for their portion of the IRA.

5. Minor or Disabled Beneficiaries

If the beneficiary designated to receive payments is a minor child or declared incapacitated or incompetent by the court, we may follow the direction of a court appointed guardian or legally appointed representative, including payment and investment direction. We will not be liable for any loss which may result from any investment, liquidation, or distribution made by us in good faith under this paragraph.

6. Investment Control

See Section N. Following your death, your beneficiary will have investment responsibility.

I. Required Minimum Distributions (RMD) for Beneficiaries

The beneficiary of your SIMPLE IRA is required to take certain distributions, to avoid additional tax penalties. The rules that apply depend on when you die – before or after your required beginning date.

1. Death Before Your Required Beginning Date

If you die before your required beginning date, the April 1 of the year following the year you reach age 70½, your beneficiary must direct that payment of his/her benefits be made or started no later than December 31 of the year following the year of your death with annual distributions of at least the required minimum distribution described below (the “life expectancy rule”). If, however, there is no designated beneficiary (as defined below) or your designated beneficiary is not an individual, the entire balance of the IRA must be paid by December 31 of the year in which occurs the fifth anniversary of your death (the “5-year rule”).

Special Rule 2009. Your beneficiary was not required under federal law to take a required minimum distribution for 2009, due to relief enacted by Congress in late 2008. In addition, if in 2009 a beneficiary was satisfying the required minimum distribution rules by taking full distribution of his or her interest by the end of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Participant’s death, the beneficiary may now take the full distribution over a six year period.

Special rules apply if your surviving spouse is your sole designated beneficiary. In this case, your surviving spouse may wait until the December 31 of the year you would have reached age 70½ to start receiving SIMPLE IRA RMD payments. If your surviving spouse is your sole beneficiary and dies after you but before his or her payments are required to begin, subsequent payments to the surviving spouse’s beneficiaries will be made as if the surviving spouse had been you.

Under the life expectancy rule, the yearly required minimum distribution for each designated beneficiary is calculated by dividing the IRA account balance as of the close of business on December 31 of the previous year by the applicable distribution period. The applicable distribution period depends on the beneficiary’s identity.

If your surviving spouse is the sole designated beneficiary of your IRA, the distribution period is the life expectancy listed in "Table 1 (Single Life Expectancy)" for the spouse's age as of the spouse's birthday in the year for which the distribution is being made. Table I can be located in IRS Publication 590. (Special rules apply to the minimum distributions after the death of your surviving spouse.)

If the designated beneficiary is an individual other than your spouse, the distribution period for the year following the year of your death is the life expectancy listed in "Table I (Single Life Expectancy)" for the beneficiary's age as of his or her birthday in that year, reduced by one for each subsequent year.

2. Death After Your Required Beginning Date

If your death occurs on or after your required beginning date, the April 1 of the year following the year you reach 70½, the beneficiary of your IRA must receive payment for each year following the year of your death.

Special Rule for 2009. Your beneficiary was not required under federal law to take a required minimum distribution for 2009, due to relief enacted by Congress in late 2008.

The yearly required minimum distribution for each designated beneficiary is calculated by dividing the IRA account balance as of the close of business on December 31 of the previous year by the applicable distribution period. The applicable distribution period depends on the beneficiary's identity.

If your surviving spouse is the sole designated beneficiary of your IRA, the distribution period is the life expectancy listed in "Table 1 (Single Life Expectancy)" for the spouse's age as of the spouse's birthday in the year for which the distribution is being made. Table 1 can be located in IRS Publication 590. (Special rules apply to the minimum distributions after the death of your surviving spouse.)

If the designated beneficiary is an individual other than your spouse, the distribution period of the year following the year of your death is the life expectancy listed in "Table 1 (Single Life Expectancy)" for the beneficiary's age as of his or her birthday in that year, reduced by one for each subsequent year.

However, if your remaining life expectancy for a given year is greater than the life expectancy of your designated beneficiary for that year (as calculated above), the required minimum payment to your beneficiary is determined by using your remaining life expectancy. Your remaining life expectancy is calculated by using your age as of your birthday in the year of your death and referring to "Table 1 (Single Life Expectancy)". This amount is reduced by one for each subsequent year.

If your beneficiary is not an individual (for example, if the beneficiary is your estate or a charity) or if you have not designated beneficiary, required minimum payments are determined using your life expectancy, as described above.

3. Designated Beneficiary

Under the RMD rules, your "designated beneficiary" is determined based on the remaining beneficiaries of your IRA as of the September 30th of the year following the year of your death. Any beneficiary who was a beneficiary on your date of death, but is not a beneficiary as of the September 30th of the year following your death (for example due to receiving payout of the complete benefit due to such beneficiary), is not taken into account for RMD purposes.

4. Penalty For Failure to Take RMD

If in any taxable year after your death, your designated beneficiary fails to withdraw the required minimum distribution from the IRA, a 50% non-deductible penalty may be imposed by the IRS on the difference between the amount that should have been distributed and the amount actually distributed.

J. Federal Estate and Gift Tax

You should consult with your tax or legal advisor regarding federal estate and gift tax matters.

1. Federal Estate Tax

Your SIMPLE IRA is fully includible in your gross estate and subject to federal estate taxes, just as any other asset. However, for a death in 2017, there is no federal estate tax if your total estate and prior taxable gifts do not exceed $5,490,000. For years after 2017, this amount is subject to adjustment.

2. Gift Tax

The gift tax exclusion for distributions is applicable to a SIMPLE IRA. In addition, the designation of a beneficiary of a SIMPLE IRA is not considered a gift tax transfer of property for federal gift tax purposes.

K. Prohibited Transactions

A prohibited transaction is any improper use of your SIMPLE IRA and includes direct or indirect transactions between you, your beneficiaries or your family members and your SIMPLE IRA.

1. Examples

Prohibited transactions include borrowing money from your SIMPLE IRA; selling property to your SIMPLE IRA; buying property from your SIMPLE IRA; receiving unreasonable compensation for managing your SIMPLE IRA; and using your SIMPLE IRA as security for a loan.

2. Effect on SIMPLE IRA

If a prohibited transaction occurs in a year, the SIMPLE IRA will lose its tax-deferred status and you will be required to include the value of the account on the first day of the year in your income for the year the tax-deferred status was lost (other than any non-deductible contributions). If you pledge your SIMPLE IRA as security for a loan, the portion of your SIMPLE IRA that was pledged must be included in your income for the year it was pledged (other than non-deductible contributions). You may also be subject to other taxes including an additional 10% penalty tax on the taxable amount if you are under age 59 ½, unless an exception applies.

L. Additional Taxes

1. Early Distributions

Early distributions are amounts distributed from your SIMPLE IRA before you attain age 59 ½. A 10% additional tax will apply to certain distributions made before you attain age 59½, unless an exception applies. In addition, if you take a distribution from your SIMPLE IRA in the first two years after the date of the first contribution under your employer's SIMPLE plan, the penalty is 25% instead of 10%.

Generally, you will not pay the additional tax for a distribution made:

- a. to pay unreimbursed expenses exceeding 7.5% of your adjusted gross income for your medical care (or that of your spouse or dependents).
- b. to pay medical insurance premiums after losing your job in certain situations.
- c. after your disability. You are considered disabled for purposes of the exception if you cannot do any substantial gainful activity because of your physical or mental condition, which is expected to be of long-continued or indefinite duration or lead to death.
- d. after your death.
- e. as part of a series of substantially equal periodic payments for your lifetime or the lifetimes of you and your beneficiary.
- f. to pay certain qualified first-time homebuyer amounts (limited to $10,000 in your lifetime).
- g. to pay for certain qualified higher education expenses for you, your spouse, and you or your spouse's children and grandchildren.
- h. to the IRS due to a tax levy.
- i. under special disaster relief, such as qualified hurricane distributions.
- j. as qualified reservist distributions under Code Section 72(t)(2).

You should consult with your tax advisor to see if your distribution qualifies for one of these exemptions to the early distribution penalty tax, as many special rules apply.

2. Tax on Excess Contributions

An excess contribution is one that exceeds the annual amount that is allowed to be contribute to your SIMPLE IRA. If the excess contributions for a year are not withdrawn by the date your return for the year is due, you are subject to a 6% tax. You must pay the 6% tax each year on excess amounts that remain in your SIMPLE IRA at the end of the year.

You may correct the excess contribution and avoid the 6% tax by withdrawing the amount of the excess and any earnings before the tax-filing deadline (including extensions) for the tax year the contribution was made. You also must include the withdrawn earnings in your gross income for the year in which you contributed. You are responsible for computing the earnings and providing the figure to us on your completed distribution form. You may also owe the IRS a 10% premature distribution penalty tax on the earnings, even if you removed them before the tax-filing deadline.

If you fail to meet the timely correction deadline, you must pay a penalty tax of 6% of the excess contribution for the year of the contribution. You will also have to pay the 6% penalty tax for each later year, if an excess is still in the SIMPLE IRA at the end of that year.

You should consult with your tax advisor about the tax consequences of excess contributions.

3. Reporting

You must file a Form 5329 with Form 1040 if you owe the additional tax on early distributions or the tax on excess contributions.

M. Financial Disclosure

1. Available Assets

The amount of money that will be available at any period of time depends on:

- a. the amount of contributions;
- b. total years of participation;
- c. earnings, including interest, dividends, realized and unrealized gains, and losses; and
- d. expenses incurred for brokerage commissions and applicable trustee's fees.

Due to the many kinds of investments that you may choose, neither a guaranteed return nor a projected amount can be furnished.

2. Fees

We charge annual and other fees for your SIMPLE IRA. Please refer to the current fee schedule. If you fail to pay our compensation, taxes, and/or expenses within a reasonable time after demand for payment is made, we reserve the right to charge the expenses to the Trust and liquidate such assets of the Trust as needed to satisfy the demand. The custodian will collect all fees, expenses, and taxes as directed by us. Such collection of fees by the custodian may be made without your approval or direction. We reserve the right to revise the fee schedules and will provide sufficient advance written or electronic notice of any revision to you. Brokerage commissions are considered a separate cost and are in addition to the above fees charged by the Trustee. Questions about brokerage commissions should be discussed with your broker or account executive before any orders are executed.

3. Annual Earnings

To compute annual earnings: Compare the year-end market value to the prior year's market value; add any interest or dividends earned for your total account.

N. Investments1. Investment Responsibility

It is your responsibility to select and direct the investments of the Trust, either in person or through a broker, account executive or investment advisor, according to the procedures currently in effect. The investments you choose must conform to the Trust Agreement. Investments that do not generate confirmations must be accompanied by additional written instructions. It is your responsibility to make sure that the investments you select do not cause the SIMPLE IRA to participate in a prohibited transaction, such as by extending credit to the SIMPLE IRA or engaging in a "call" transaction.

2. Impermissible Investments

No part of your SIMPLE IRA may be invested in the following:

- a. Collectibles within the meaning of Code Section 408(m) except for certain coins and bullion defined in Code Section 408(m)(3). Any impermissible investments in collectibles will be treated as a distribution.
- b. Life insurance contracts or commingled with other property, except in a common trust or common investment fund, described in Code Section 408(a)(5).

Other types of investments may also be prohibited or limited, as provided in the Trust Agreement.

3. Investment Information

Any questions concerning the authority of your broker should be directed to the brokerage firm. The broker is not an employee of Principal Trust Company, and Principal Trust Company does not supervise or control the activity of the broker. It is our understanding that you will exercise independent judgment when you make your investment decisions.

4. Investment Performance

No projection of the growth in value of your SIMPLE IRA can reasonably be made or guaranteed. The value of your SIMPLE IRA and the growth in value of the SIMPLE IRA is dependent solely on the performance of the investments chosen by you.

O. Duties Not Assigned

We will not be responsible for voting proxies, receiving or mailing proxy materials, filing reports, returns or disclosures with any government agency unless we are required to do so under applicable law. Proxies and proxy material that are received by us will be destroyed.
